SURVIVAL BOOKS

Swiss Watching

Inside Europe's Landlocked Island

Diccon Bewes

Swiss Watching is a light-hearted yet revealing journey around Europe's most individual country. From seeking Heidi and finding the best chocolate to reliving a bloody past and exploring an uncertain future, Swiss Watching proves that there's more to Switzerland than banks, skis, francs and cheese.

This is a picture of the real Switzerland, a place where the breathtaking scenery shaped a nation, not just a tour itinerary, and where tradition is as important as technology. And where recycling is forbidden on Sundays. It's also the story of its people, who have more power than their politicians, but can't speak to one other in the same language. And who own more guns per head than the people of Iraq.

One country, four languages, 26 cantons, and 7.5 million people (only 80% of whom are Swiss): there's nowhere else in Europe like it. Switzerland may be surrounded by land, but it is an island at the center of Europe. Welcome to the landlocked island.

Diccon Bewes is an experienced travel writer who has lived in Switzerland for four years.

Lone Star Guide to the Texas Hill Country

Sixth Edition

Richard Zelade

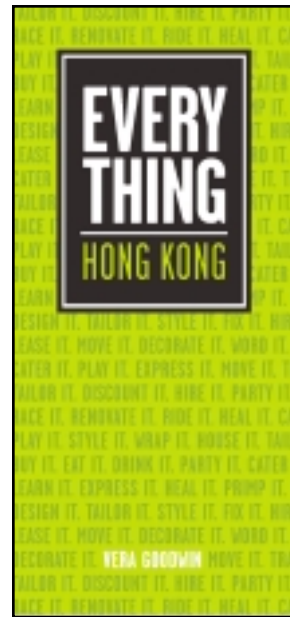

This book features 10 tours of central Texas that capture the essence of its flavor and charm. Take a ride on the Fredericksburg and Northern Railroad; follow the historic Mormon trails from Travis Peak Community to Medina Lake; visit Enchanted Rock, the second largest batholith in the United States. This unusual guide to the Texas Hill Country offers historic tidbits, folklore, and geography; detailed listings of lodgings and restaurants; major attractions, such as state parks, museums and historic places; directions, hours of operation, addresses, and phone numbers; maps and a calendar of events. The author, a Hill Country native, describes his book as a blend of "history, personal observation, folklore, and trivia...spiced up with a little geology, geography, and humor."

Richard Zelade is a writer, historian, explorer and cyclist. He lives in Austin, TX.

Carmen Ferreiro-Esteban

To Andrea, the life of a princess is not a dream; it's tedious and stifling. But the certainties of her life, both good and bad, are thrown into chaos when she accidentally travels to an alternative world, from a cave on a forbidden beach in her family's kingdom to the warm and carefree life of Southern California. Then a careless visit to the cave results in terrible consequences: a brewing war between kingdoms, her sister's love for the wrong man, Andrea's own conflicted feelings for an enemy leader, and dark family secrets exposed. Andrea needs to act to resolve problems which she helped to create, and she faces many difficult choices, torn between duty and desire on so many levels. Readers will enjoy the mix of traditional elements of the fantasy genre, with fresh ideas and a look at our culture through the eyes of a stranger.

First-time author Carmen Ferreiro-Esteban, originally from Spain, currently resides in Doylestown, PA, near Philadelphia.

The Fox's Window and Other Stories

Naoko Awa

Appearing in English for the first time, The Fox's Window brings Naoko Awa's magical tales to new readers. An avid reader of Western fairy tales since childhood, Awa was influenced by the Brothers Grimm, Hans Christian Andersen, and The Arabian Nights. In this delightful collection, she creates a highly imaginative world, in which humans and other beings interact. Awa's timeless, lyrical prose resonates with readers of all ages.

Naoko Awa (1943-1993) was born in Tokyo and while growing up lived in different parts of Japan. As a child, she read fairy tales by the Brothers Grimm, Hans Christian Andersen, and Wilhelm Hauff, as well as The Arabian Nights. She earned a bachelor's degree in Japanese literature from Japan Women's University. Her books have been translated into Chinese, Korean, and French.

Steampunkery

Polymer Clay and Mixed Media Projects
Christi Friesen

This is a project book for all skill levels. Step-by-step pictures combined with detailed and humorous instructions keep the pace quick and the excitement level high. “Steampunk” is a look that combines a Victorian-era sense of romance with a clockwork mechanical-ness. This book adapts those characteristics to polymer clay creations and offers projects that are sophisticated yet playful, challenging without being difficult.

There is a lot to enjoy in this book—a hinged heart pendant that opens to reveal its inner workings, cute little steampunk critters (complete with goggles of course) and other fun stuff—pendants, sculptures, wall pieces, even things you can add to costumes, if you’re into that sort of thing.

This eighth book by well-known author/artist Christi Friesen is her best yet!

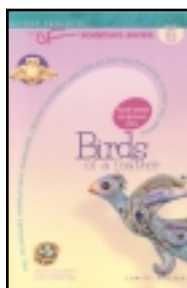

Christi Friesen was born at a very young age, kidnapped and raised by lemmings. She escaped to California where she got married, had various wonderful kids, and amassed credit card bills. She is currently considering having a midlife crisis, unless there’s something good on television.

Moose Power!

Muskeg Saves the Day

Susan W. Beckhorn

Illustrated by Amy Huntington

Retired logger Jean du Bois rescues an orphaned moose calf. Raised in the barnyard, young Muskeg forms a special bond with Molly, the gentle draft horse. When Molly becomes too old and tired to pull the wagon and plow, Jean du Bois fears he will have to give up his beloved farm and move to town—until his grandson and Muskeg show him a clever solution to his problem.

Susan W. Beckhorn's stories have been published in Cricket magazine for children. The author of five previous books, she lives in Rexville, in upstate New York. Artist and illustrator Amy Huntington lives in Williston, VT. Her work has appeared in Vermont Life magazine as well as in several children's books.

Animalympics

Mio Debnam, et al.

Five illustrated storybooks in a slipcase follow Tiger, Monkey, Antelope, Ostrich and Panda as they go on fantastic athletic adventures. The animals work hard to train for the Olympics—and learn that even if they don't win the medal, spirit and perseverance always takes them places! Includes a concise history of the Olympics, plus educational fact sheets on each of the animals, whose habitats are endangered.

Contributors are all based in Hong Kong; except for Judith Simanovszky, an educator from Hungary. Mio Debnam has edited children's daily newspapers and is the regional adviser for the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators. Karmel Schreyer authored over 20 children's and young-adult fiction, reference and history books. Louise Renwick's passion for adventure brought her to Asia and an interest in anthropology inspires her writing. Susan Sprengeler has authored educational materials for Oxford University Press and several rhyme books. Children's book illustrator Adeline Ko has a master's in Chinese children's literature.

Chase to the Brazen Head

The China Exploration Club

Gregory Payne

Semi-historical adventure novel for readers 10-14. The past collides with the present when a theft occurs at the Shanghai International School. Three friends exploring an abandoned chapel are horrified to discover their old friend and mentor has been hurt, and the key to the Stronghold of the White Emperor has been stolen. They will have to follow in the footsteps of a 1941 expedition to the Stronghold, to try to prevent the thief from stealing the Brazen Head, an ancient bronze statue that can predict the future. But they face dangers on the way, and must be as clever and as skilled as the best of the White Emperor's court to get to the prize in time.

Gregory Payne is from Australia and is a Hong Kong-based intellectual-property lawyer. Greg loves to read history, pore over books on ancient Chinese weaponry, and to indulge his adventurous imagination through writing. He has been developing the story of the China Exploration Club, which is at the centre of Chase to the Brazen Head, over the last few years.

The Spider's Web

Adrian Tilley

Tense thriller for readers 11-18. In 2056, Hong Kong is not a happy place to live, but it's Jeff's home. To prevent the spread of a deadly "Disease," all neighborhoods have been segregated, a curfew enforced and grim-faced troops roam the streets, ready to kill at any sign of unrest. Like everyone else, 17-year-old Jeff is keeping a low profile and trying hard to live a normal life, when he discovers a secret that blows his world apart. While on the run, he meets Kathy, who is also racing against time to save her own parents. Can they help each other to reach their goals before the web closes in?

Adrian Tilley taught English for 30 years in the UK and Hong Kong, and is a visiting lecturer at the University of Hong Kong. He loves playing guitar, bass and drums, and singing jazz. He has also worked as an artist. Adrian is a keen golfer and has coached golf and soccer. He lives in a 500-year-old barn in Devon, UK.

Rene Char

Translated by Mary Ann Caws and Nancy Kline

Preface by Marie-Claude Char
Introduction by Sandra Bermann

Rene Char was one of France's most respected 20th-century poets. Part of the Surrealist group in the 1920's-1930's, he gradually drifted away from the group. His two most famous titles are contained within this bilingual anthology: All of "Feuillets d'Hypnos" and "Fureur et Mystere." Insightful essays are provided by Sandra Bermann, Nancy Kline, and Mary Ann Caws.

Rene Char (France: 1907-1988) had over 20 books of poems published during his lifetime and is included in all major anthologies of French poetry. His stature worldwide continues to grow.

A Life of Poems, Poems of a Life

Anna de Noailles

Translated by Norman R. Shapiro
Introduction by Catherine Perry

A poet of undeniable stature, the Comtesse de Anna de Noailles was respected and beloved by France's literary and lay population alike, counting among her many admirers Proust, Collette, and Cocteau. She was the only female poet of her time to receive the highest public recognitions, including the first woman to become a commander of the Legion of Honor. Only comprehensive anthology of Noailles available in English. Bilingual (French-English) edition.

Anna de Noailles (1876-1933) was born in and lived in Paris her entire life. Nine volumes of poetry, three novels, and volumes of autobiography and essays were published in her lifetime.

Jules Laforgue

Revised and augmented from the 1958 edition: University of California. Poems of Jules Laforgue

Jules Laforgue; Translated with an introduction by Patricia Terry

Poet Jules Laforgue (1860-1887) is considered one of the creators of modernism: part-symbolist, part post-impressionist, he was one of the first poets to write in free verse. He heavily influenced such modern poets as T.S. Eliot and Ezra Pound. This is a completely revised and greatly augmented version of Patricia Terry's now classic 1958 edition of this work. Fully bilingual edition (French-English) Terry fully captures Laforgue's intricate word play, puns, and rhythm in a way lacking in many modern translations. Great introduction to this poet.

Jules laforgue (1860-1887) was an innovative French poet/essayist/short story writer/and playwright. Born in Uruguay, he was raised in Paris, lived in Berlin for 5 years, and then the rest of his short life in Paris.

Air: Stargate Universe

SGU-01

James Swallow

Destiny awaits... Without food, supplies, or a way home, Colonel Everett Young finds himself in charge of a mission that has gone wrong before it has even begun. Stranded and alone on the far side of the universe, the mismatched team of scientists, technicians, and military personnel have only one objective: staying alive. As personalities clash and desperation takes hold, salvation lies in the hands of Dr. Nicholas Rush, the man responsible for their plight, a man with an agenda of his own...

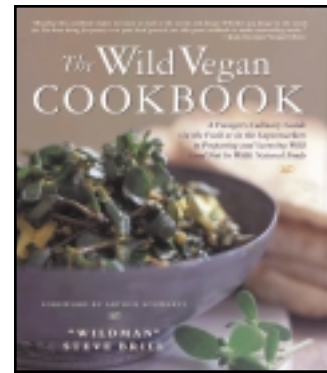

"Stargate Universe" is the gritty new spin-off of the hit TV shows "Stargate SG-1" and "Stargate Atlantis."

James Swallow is the author of several books and scripts. His fiction from the worlds of Stargate includes the novels Stargate Atlantis: Halcyon, Stargate SG-1: Relativity and Stargate Atlantis: Nightfall, and the audio dramas Shell Game, Zero Point and First Prime, as well as short stories for the official Stargate Magazine. James lives in London, and is at work on his next book.

The UV Advantage

Dr. Michael F. Holick and Mark Jenkins

Sunshine is good for you! While too much sun causes wrinkles and raises other health concerns, a lack of sun exposure, our primary source of vitamin D can cause serious health problems, such as osteoporosis, certain cancers, and diabetes. Dr. Holick, the discoverer of the active form of vitamin D, has pulled together an impressive body of evidence in support that no one should be—as he puts it—a “sun-phobe,” or, for that matter, a sun worshipper. His conclusion: relatively brief, but unfettered exposure to sunshine and its equivalent can help to ward off a host of debilitating and sometimes deadly diseases, including osteoporosis, cancers of the colon, prostate and breast, hypertension, diabetes, multiple sclerosis, rheumatoid arthritis, and depression.

Hadith

An Introduction

Muhammad's Legacy in the Medieval and Modern World

Jonathan A.C. Brown

Central to Islamic practice and law, the term hadith is applied to first-hand reports of the Prophet Muhammad's words and deeds, passed from generation to generation. Informative and accessible, this wide-ranging introduction provides a detailed exploration of their collection, historical authenticity, and role in modern Islam. Complete with a glossary, extensive bibliography, and helpful diagrams, Hadith: An Introduction is perfectly suited to students, scholars, and the general reader.

An Act of Free Choice

Decolonisation and the Right to Self-Determination in West Papua

Pieter Drooglever

Introduces the history and people of West Papua, tracing the origins of the international conflict surrounding their struggle for self-determination following WW2. Based on three decades of exhaustive research and focusing particular attention on the sham referendum of 1969—which Indonesia dubbed “The Act of Free Choice,” an election rigged to legitimize Indonesian control over West Papua—Drooglever highlights the continuing impact of this injustice on Indonesia's most underdeveloped and poverty-stricken province.

Clean Energy Common Sense

An American Call to Action on Global Climate Change

Frances Beinecke with Bob Deans
Foreword by Robert Redford

As America confronts global climate change, this documents the problem, sets forth solutions, and challenges each of us to do our part to embrace a clean and sustainable energy future, today and in the years ahead. Doing so, she convincingly argues, will help put Americans back to work, reduce our reliance on foreign oil and create a healthier planet, for ourselves and for our children.

Stay Young & Sexy with Bio-Identical Hormone Replacement

The Science Explained

Revised, Expanded, Updated

Jonathan V. Wright, MD and Lane Lenard, PhD

This is the long-awaited follow-up to Dr. Jonathan Wright's best seller Natural Hormone Replacement for Women Over 45; the book that started the bio-identical hormone revolution. In their new updated book, with a powerful foreword by Suzanne Somers, the authors update the science, safety, and clinical successes surrounding this controversial subject and share the secrets that will allow the reader to Stay Young & Sexy.

The Art of Painting

Leonardo da Vinci • Introduction by Alfred Werner

Generations of art students have turned to this book to study anatomy and perspective.

Of Leonardo da Vinci's paintings, only eight survive complete. Yet he remains one of the supreme masters of the Renaissance, and one of the most influential figures in the history of art.

Understanding History and Other Essays

Bertrand Russell

Includes "How to Read and Understand History" and "The Value of Free Thought," which rails against orthodoxy, advocating free thought, free action and free speech.

Co-author with A.N. Whitehead of Principia Mathematica, philosopher Bertrand Arthur William Russell won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1950.

Classical Mathematics

A Concise History of Mathematics in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries

Joseph Ehrenfried Hofmann

Dividing the classical era into three major periods, high Baroque, late Baroque, and the Enlightenment, Hofmann describes the major trends and developments of each period. Covers Descartes, Fermat, Newton, Gregory & Leibniz. Includes a fascinating examination of Japanese achievements in infinitesimal mathematics.

We think of Hofmann today primarily for his expertise in Leibniz's development of calculus.

Mozart and Masonry

Paul Nettl

The eighteenth century is considered the pinnacle of Masonic development and Mozart's Magic Flute, which expresses Masonic ideals, one of the greatest art works of all time. Nettl also deals with Masonic influences in the compositions of Beethoven, Wagner and Sibelius.

Professor Nettl was the author of several books about music including The Beethoven Encyclopedia.

The Philosophical Diary of Leonardo da Vinci

Leonardo da Vinci

Translated and Introduced by Wade Baskins

Leonardo da Vinci was one of the most profound thinkers of his—or any other—age. Culled from his coded diaries and unpublished manuscripts, these writings include opinions, scientific analysis, and speculations that were unconventional, dangerous, and even heretical in Renaissance Italy.

Leonardo here muses on spiritual possession, alchemy, tyranny and freedom, nature, creativity, painting, poetry, knowledge and reason, and more.
