The Art of Poetry

Christine Perrin, MFA

Poetry is an art form that is a universal human endeavor. It is a deep communication of the world around us, shared from one person to another through carefully crafted language. If you have ever felt mystified by poetry, or unable to enjoy the significance of it, you will be lead step-by-step to an understanding and love of this branch of literature by a poet herself. The Art of Poetry is an excellent middle school or high school curriculum; it will teach the practice of reading a poem slowly and carefully. It will also introduce students to the elements of poetry, such as imagery and metaphor, and to the many forms that can make a poem, from ode to open verse. In the belief that practice is the best way to learn, this book is rich with poems from many sources, which the students will examine through the means of explication, exercises, and activities. A biography of each poet is also included, along with a CD of a reading of many of the poems.

Christine Perrin graduated from The Johns Hopkins University (B.A.) and The University of Maryland (M.F.A.). Since then she has taught in various capacities and at different institutions, including Johns Hopkins, Messiah College, Gordon College, Pennsylvania public schools (through the PA artists in education program), and a variety of non-public classical schools and conferences. Her own poetry has been published in different journals, including TriQuarterly, Blackbird, The New England Review, Seneca Review, Image, Christianity and Literature, Agni. She has twice received fellowships from the Pennsylvania Council for the Arts and from Bread Loaf Writer's Conference. She lives in Camp Hill, PA.

Discovery of Deduction

An Introduction to Formal Logic

Aaron Larsen, D.A. & Joelle Hodge with Shelly Johnson

Discovery of Deduction: An Introduction to Formal Logic introduces students to the fascinating realm of formal, deductive logic, teaching them how to decipher the soundness of an argument by its structure more than by its content. While formal logic is not normally presented in a light that emphasizes its practical application, this text is intended to emphasize the very real-world application that soundly structured deductive logic can and should have.

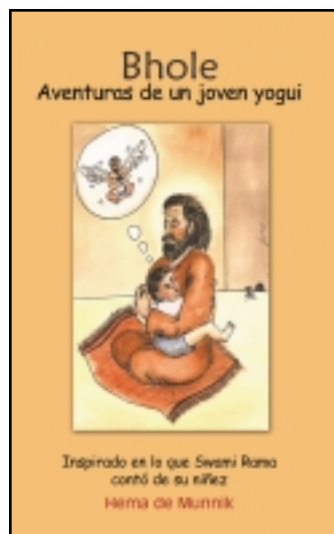

This text is presented in a workbook format, with clear explanations and many different exercises and examples to ensure that students fully master the material.

Both Aaron Larsen and Joelle Hodge live in Harrisburg, PA. They have worked together as co-teachers of the logic courses at Covenant Christian Academy, also in Harrisburg. They bring a hands-on, experienced approach to the logic texts that they have created. They are also the co-authors of The Art of Argument, An Introduction to the Informal Fallacies.

Landscape and Journey

William Virgil Davis

Landscape and Journey

William Virgil Davis

The poems in William Virgil Davis's Landscape and Journey constitute forays onto actual terrain—either close to home in Texas or farther off in Wales—as well as exploring what the poet Guy Davenport once called the geography of the imagination. A number of the poems here recount the closely observed details of journeys the poet has made, travels he has literally taken. At other times they tell of imaginary journeys. His poems are like travelers sent out into the world to make their way, to survive and to endure.

The New Criterion, one of the foremost contemporary venues for poetry, established an annual poetry prize in 2000, and Ivan R. Dee began publication of the annual New Criterion poetry prize-winner in 2001.

William Virgil Davis is the author of three books of poetry, including One Way to Reconstruct the Scene, which won the Yale Series of Younger Poets Award, and, most recently, Winter Light. His critical works include R. S. Thomas: Poetry and Theology. He is professor of English and writer in residence at Baylor University in Waco, Texas.
