Double Take

One Fabulous Recipe, Two Finished Dishes, Feeding Vegetarians and Omnivores Together

A.J. Rathbun and Jeremy Holt

A family supper that must accommodate vegetarian children, a dinner party for both vegetarian and meat-eating friends, Thanksgiving with and without turkey—these days, preparing a meal that pleases everyone can be a challenge for home cooks. But it's one that is easily surmounted with the help of coauthors and good pals A.J. Rathbun (a vegetarian) and Jeremy Holt (a meat-eater). In their unique new cookbook, Double Take, A.J. and Jeremy combine their culinary talents to bring both vegetarians and omnivores to the table. Each recipe is cleverly designed to help the cook create two versions—one meatless, the other not—of the same dish at the same time. Double Take includes more than 75 such recipes for appetizers, entrées, soups, salads, and sides. Enjoy snacks of Sweet Meatballs and Stuffed 'Shrooms, a brunch of Huevos Rancheros or Welsh Rabbit, or favorites such as Salade Niçoise, French Onion Soup, and Po'Boys. Entrée options are abundant, with comforting dishes such as Spaghetti alla Carbonara, Chili con/non Carne, or Chicken and Dumpling, or more elegant fare such as Osso Buco or Roulades that are suited to entertaining. A chapter on mostly vegetarian side dishes (which meat eaters will also enjoy) includes Vegetables Hollandaise, Herbed Home Fries, and Rice Pilaf. With a copy of Double Take in hand, cooks no longer have to worry about doing double duty at the dinner table—it's a delicious solution to a modern dining dilemma.

A.J. Rathbun is the author of six previous books, including the IACP award-winning Good Spirits. A food and cocktail specialist who's a frequent guest on local and national radio and television, he also teaches mixology classes. A.J. lives in Seattle. Jeremy Holt worked for many years as a cook or bartender in numerous restaurants. An avid home cook who for many years wrote the food-and-drink blog The Husky Boy, he is currently a pharmacist in Seattle.

Crime, Incorporated Legal and Financial Implications of Corporate Misconduct

Miriam F. Weismann

Today, whether prosecuting or defending, the approach to understanding organizational crime has become more difficult because of the increased multi-organizational character of corporate crime. Crime, Incorporated: Legal and Financial Implications of Corporate Misconduct, provides a complete re-examination of how corporate crime has changed in the last decade.

The focus is on organizational and corporate crime, as today the higher impact crimes have become organizational in nature. Crime, Incorporated describes corporate crimes in the context of traditional legal principles governing prosecution and defense of white collar crime, but also provides insight into some of the nuts and bolts of the financial and accounting schemes utilized to achieve unlawful results and the business motivations fueling entity criminal behavior.

Miriam F. Weismann is currently an Associate Professor of Business and Law at Suffolk University.

She's Crazy, He's a Liar— Now What?

A Single Girl's Guide to Understanding the Sexes

Cecily Knobler

Every young, single woman needs help navigating the hazardous minefields of modern dating and sex. Why does a date you thought was spectacular end with you waiting by the silent phone? Why has that dweeb you thought you gave the brush-off to, set up camp outside your office?

A boy-crazy kid and a woman who's been dumped more times than she'd care to count, stand-up comic Cecily Knobler decided to figure out "what's the deal?" Why do men and women seem to have to be together while they also can't figure each other out? What makes a guy who's adorable on the first date make you want to gag on the second? Why does a sane, successful woman start acting like a nutcase when a cute guy is in the room?

Filled with witty cartoons, hilarious and sometimes horrific dating and relationship stories from Cecily and her friends, along with truly helpful advice and even some non-threatening science, this book helps today's young woman prepare herself for a solid relationship ... okay, maybe not, but She's Crazy, He's a Liar is still a fun read that will make any young woman realize she is definitely not alone. At the very least she will gain some entertaining food for thought.

In She's Crazy, He's a Liar, Cecily sheds light on:

- Why men think all women are crazy and women think all men are liars (hint: there's a little truth there!)
- Why making out for four hours with a guy you don't ever want to see again might not be such a good idea
- Five basic rules of dating, kissing, foreplay and sex
- Where NOT to look for a partner

She also offers games such as The Red Flag Game: "See if you can spot the red flag that should have told my friend not to date this guy!"

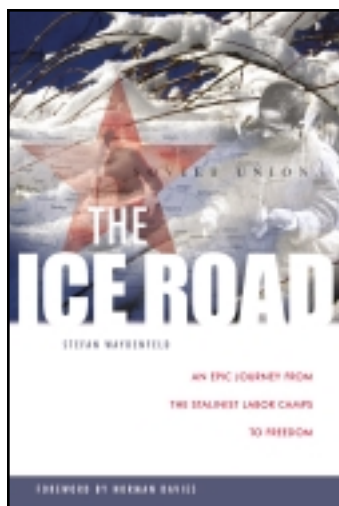

Radio host, film critic and stand-up comic Cecily Knobler currently writes and hosts "Live from Hollywood," a radio morning show broadcast live daily to over eight million listeners. She is also a current contributor to Us Weekly magazine. As a comedian, Cecily has worked all over North America, including the prestigious "Just for Laughs" Festival in Montreal. Cecily Knobler has a degree in Neuropsychology. She lives in Los Angeles, where she amuses herself by drinking coffee and dreaming up ways of moving to London.

The Ice Road

An Epic Journey from the Stalinist Labor Camps to Freedom

Stefan Waydenfeld

Foreword by Norman Davies

In this forgotten chapter of history, 1.5 million Polish citizens—arbitrarily arrested by Stalin as “enemies of the people” following the Soviet invasion of Poland in September 1939—were deported to slave labor camps throughout the most inhospitable forests and steppes of the Soviet Union.

The Ice Road is the gripping story of young Stefan Waydenfeld and his family, who were deported by cattle car in 1940 to Kvasha in the frozen wastes of the Russian arctic north.

Includes supplemental material and photos to set this spellbinding account in its historical context.

“Within the first paragraphs of The Ice Road, I knew I would be captivated ... surprisingly fresh, detailed and intimate.” —The Sunday Times, London

Stefan Waydenfeld—a graduate of the Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin, Ireland, and member of the British Medical Association—recounts his experiences of deportation, the life and death struggle to survive one more day, and his long journey to freedom.

Entrance to the Great Perfection

A Guide to the Dzogchen Preliminaries

Compiled, translated and edited by Cortland Dahl

As an introduction to the practices of the Great Perfection, this book offers accessible and insightful guidance on its foundational practices.

With classic commentaries on these practices by Jigmé Lingpa, Patrul Rinpoche and Jamyang Khyentse Wangpo, and a lively discussion by filmmaker, author, and renowned spiritual teacher Dzongsar Jamyang Khyentse, the practices are approached from a modern perspective, explaining how to incorporate them into the fast-paced Western lifestyle. Additionally, a thorough introduction familiarizes the reader with the world of Tibetan Buddhism and its varieties of meditative practices.

“In this inspiring book, with Jigmé Lingpa’s original work, alongside Dzongsar Khyentse Rinpoche’s brilliant and practical guide, we have a perfect blend of ancient and modern, offering us nothing less than a path to enlightenment.” —Sogyal Rinpoche, author of The Tibetan Book of Living and Dying

Cortland Dahl has published numerous translations of Buddhist works. He lives in Minneapolis.

The Great Improbability

An Autobiographical Novel by the People of the Earth

David Sayre

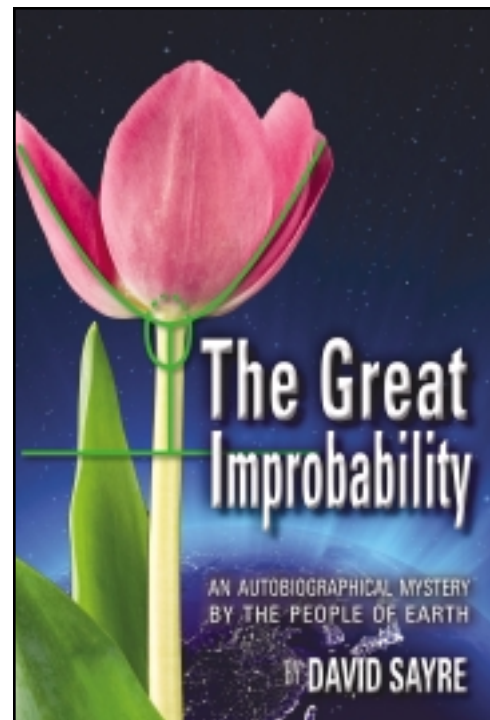

Here is a mystery/fantasy that invites the reader to “Discover an epic tale of a global community. Embrace the idea of Intelligent Life as an intrinsic reality. Consider the effects of entropy in our universe.” Similar to Ursula K. Le Guin’s Always Coming Home, this title was collectively “written” by the People of the Earth. Entrepreneur David Sayre has reinvented our world and peopled it with characters whose lives intersect in unforgettable ways. Reminiscent of ABC’s “Lost” television series, the interconnectedness defies an easy explanation. Meet the six main characters:

“Two young women and four men, alone and peculiar, become entangled in deep mystery. Darwin’s evolution has run its course, and a new survival of the fittest falls into their hands.

Meaghan Leary, an abused young woman, pulls herself out of poverty and discrimination to control all around her, but her quest for power pushes Thomas Cabot Brigham III, Esq. into criminal insanity. An autistic mathematician named David, and his mechanical partner whom he names Ami, struggle together to develop “feeling.” Aldo Marconi, a fugitive scientist, strives to decode enigmatic patterns received by his radio telescopes. Timothy Maloney, the glamorous scion of a famous political dynasty, confesses a secret and searches for those he has exploited.

Their stories mingle in the Pentagon and in hospitals, in exclusive clubs and poor farms, prisons and law firms, ghettos and campuses, a laboratory and a cathedral and a reservation—places of great beauty and desolate abandonment. Aspiring for love, seeking beauty, trying to find meaning and identity, they advance toward a rational faith, finally together. The two faces of entropy resolve in beauty. And the things we hold sacred are real, after all.”

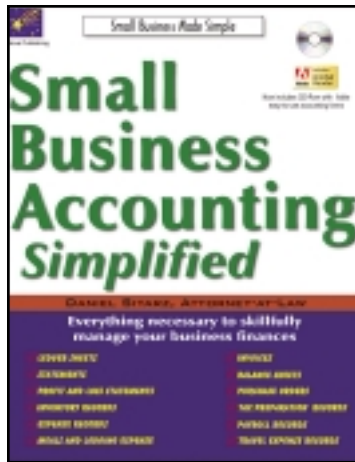

David Sayre is a leading expert in the field of energy, whose first book, Something There Is, contains essays meant to provoke thought and conversation about the state of the world, our place in it, and to highlight the concept of entropy as it relates to the evolution of our species. He lives in Cambridge, MA and Brevard, NC.

Good Fortune

Adam Friedman

"Adam Friedman's clever literary debut, Good Fortune is the greatest collection of wisdom ever assembled that doesn't require ordering Kung Pao Chicken." —Hugh Fink, Emmy-Award Winning Comedian/Writer, "Saturday Night Live"

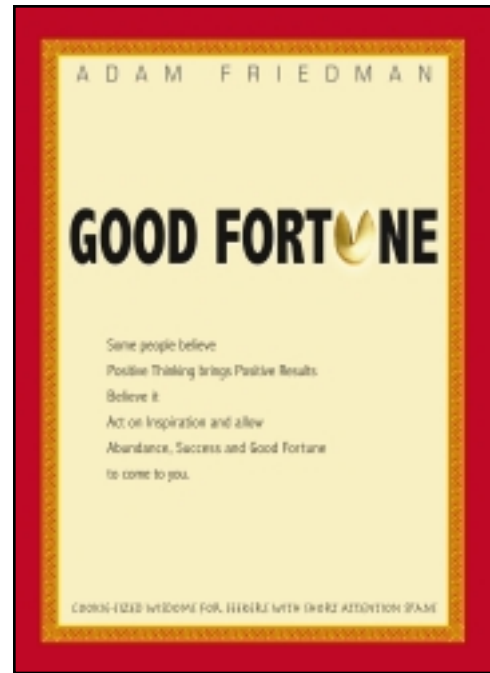

"For seekers LOST in all the negative energy, the Good Fortune book is a lifeboat to the positive and getting back on track." —Matt Earl Beesley, TV Series Director, "Lost," "CSI-Miami"

Do you want more success, happiness and abundance in your life? Positive thoughts attract positive results. Many people believe that. The past decade has been a dark time for the planet, the global economy, public health, and world peace. Isn't it time we turned that around? How? It begins with you. Your good fortune is in your hands.

The Good Fortune Book has turned phrases inspired by Fortune Cookies and turned them into a resource of positive affirmations. Designed to be an interactive experience, the Good Fortune book allows the reader to choose random answers to any of life's complicated questions. Every time the reader opens the Good Fortune book they embark on a new experience and receive the answer specifically for them. Created and inspired through a series of good fortune and misfortune author Adam Friedman has created an inspirational work that has the power to transform any event or question into a positive and introspective experience.

How it works: Think of a question, open the book, read your fortune. What does the answer mean to you? Hold only positive thoughts. Act on inspiration. Trust yourself. Believe it and allow your abundance, success, wealth, health, loving relationships, joy and good fortune to come you.

Adam Friedman is a Recognized leader and motivator in the medical device industry. He currently resides in Southern California with his wife, two sons and very large dog.

Tile Quilt Revival

Reinventing a Forgotten Form
Carol Gilham Jones & Bobbi Finley

These folksy quilts inspired by nineteenth-century tile quilts are easy to make and work beautifully with today's colorful, contemporary fabrics, but they retain that old-time style that makes them so much fun to sew and show off. This is a traditional quilting title.

Bobbi Finley makes prize-winning quilts, has a quilt in the collection of the American Museum of Folk Art in New York, and has exhibited at the International Quilt Festival in Houston and American Quilters Society in Paducah. She is a board member of the American Quilt Study Group. Bobbi lives in Williamsburg, Virginia. Carol Gilham Jones' quilts have twice appeared on the cover of Quilter's Newsletter Magazine, and her quilts were included in a show at the Autry Museum of Western Heritage in Los Angeles. Carol lives in Lawrence, Kansas.

Spies in the Garden

Bob Bergin

Set in Burma and southern China, this story begins in Burma, just before the start of World War II, and follows the Japanese invasion and the disasters that befall the British Army. One bright spot in this drama is the American Volunteer Group (AVG) Flying Tigers who join in the defense of Rangoon. These events are the backdrop to the main story, the beginning of the American espionage effort in Asia that becomes known as the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). Young journalist Harry Ross is sent to Rangoon by "Wild Bill" Donovan. His primary mission is to establish an espionage network and monitor the effectiveness of the Flying Tigers. When Rangoon falls, the action moves to Kunming as does Harry's stable of sexy and resourceful female agents. Readers are well rewarded with a cast of characters from Tai Li, Chiang Kai-shek's espionage chief, to Medal of Honor winner and AVG pilot Greg Boyington. The book will appeal to readers of military history and espionage fiction, and to anyone who enjoys a good adventure.

Bob Bergin is a retired Foreign Service Officer and author of two other fiction books.

Panama Paradise

A Tribute to Tropic Star Lodge

Guy Harvey

Tropic Star Lodge is a veritable paradise cut out of the side of a mountain at the edge of the Darien Jungle on the Pacific coast of Panama. Home to some 170 gamefish records, the lodge can only be reached by boat or plane, the nearest road being over 100 miles away. World-renowned gamefish artist Guy Harvey tells the story of Tropic Star in words and pictures, and a special slip-cased edition, numbered and signed by Harvey, is available to a limited number of gamefish enthusiasts.

Guy Harvey is a unique blend of diver, artist, angler, scientist and conservationist. Growing up in Jamaica, Harvey spent many hours fishing and diving with his father along the island's south shore. From his early inspirations, Guy's natural gift to recreate marine life has propelled him from Professor of Marine Biology to a wildlife artist and photographer. He lives in the Cayman Islands.

Injunctive Relief

Temporary Restraining Orders and Preliminary Injunctions

Kirstin Stoll-DeBell, Nancy L. Dempsey, Bradford E. Dempsey

The injunction—a court order that directs a party to perform or refrain from performing a particular action—is an exceptionally potent and far-reaching remedy, the grant or denial of which often leads to a cascade of serious consequences. This comprehensive and practical guide to injunctive relief covers all issues that are relevant to these types of motions from pre-filing considerations to appellate relief.

Part I examines the requirements for obtaining preliminary injunctions and temporary restraining orders in each of the Federal Courts of Appeal and for each state.

Part II discusses in detail all of the issues that should be considered before deciding to file a motion for such injunctive relief.

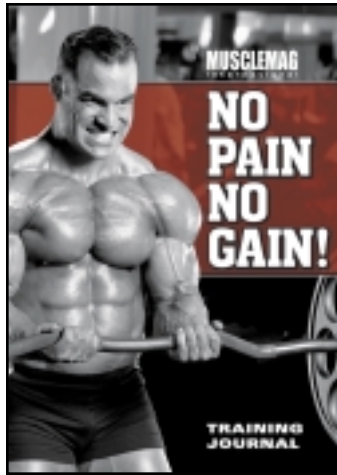

Part III provides very detailed instructions regarding all procedural aspects for filing such motions, including the specific rules for such motions in each state.

The book also includes helpful checklists, flowcharts and statistics to help lawyers determine which injunctive relief will be most effective.

Kipling's Cat

A Memoir of My Father

Anne Cabot Wyman (with artwork by Jeffries Wyman)

Kipling's Cat tells the story of Jeffries Wyman: Boston Brahmin, scientist, artist and grieving widower who left his two young children behind in pursuit of science and self. In publishing these books, his only daughter and “keeper of the flame,” Anne, takes readers from the inner sanctum of Boston’s elite to the mountains of Japan; from Alaskan igloos to the embassies and salons of Paris, Cairo, and Rome. A complex, charismatic man, biochemist and inventor of “allostery,” he is vividly portrayed by the daughter he left in Massachusetts. It is a story compelling, sad, endearing and funny from Anne, now 80.

Letters from Japan

Jeffries Wyman (edited by Anne Cabot Wyman and illustrated by Julia Blackburn)

For readers who want to find out more about Jeffries Wyman in his own words, Letters from Japan is a candid and startling depiction of his experience in postwar Japan, where he gave a series of lectures. His letters to Anne offer an unusual view of Japan at a time when most Americans there got a far less intimate view of Japanese life. Wyman embraced the culture of a country that welcomed him, from the lowliest peasants to the Emperor—a country where his epiphany in a tea garden would later define the future of allosteric biochemistry.

Alaska Journal

Jeffries Wyman (edited by Anne Cabot Wyman, with artwork by the author)

In 1951, Wyman set out on another journey, heading north to where few white men had ventured.

Alaska Journal is a private diary that chronicles his scientific pilgrimage in the remote arctic. There, he adopted the Inuit way of life—living in an igloo, eating an all-meat diet, hunting caribou, and fishing. Wyman’s vivid watercolor paintings accompany the text, leading readers to a place starkly different from the elite world he came from.

Anne Cabot Wyman’s adventures extend far beyond her Boston blueblood upbringing. After losing her mother at age 13, Anne followed in the footsteps of her ever-absent father on a path less traveled, becoming a painter, amateur pilot, prizewinning travel editor and chief editorialist for the Boston Globe for 30 years. She now lives in Cambridge, MA.

Nine Principles of Litigation and Life

Michael E. Tigar

Michael Tigar is widely regarded as one of the top trial lawyers alive today. In this new book Tigar reflects on the principles of action that are needed in litigation and in life. He draws compelling parallels between being a successful trial lawyer and living a purposeful life. Tigar examines the nine principles in detail: Courage; Rapport; Skepticism; Observation; Preparation; Structure; Candor; Empowerment; and Presentation. Unique and introspective, Tigar examines legal history and his own experiences to craft a message for all trial lawyers about the importance of their work and the principles that shape their lives.

"In Nine Principles, Michael Tigar shares not just the 'how' of his own amazing courtroom achievements, but also the 'how to' of practical tips that all of us can implement and, even more importantly, the 'why' of the importance of trial attorneys who are willing to fight for their clients' rights, even against staggering odds. Every lawyer and everyone else who cherishes the special role of trial lawyers in our society should read this book." —Stephen D. Easton

Michael E. Tigar is Professor of the Practice of Law at Duke University School of Law, and Professor Emeritus of Law at Washington College of Law, American University, Washington, D.C. His clients have included Angela Davis, Terry Nichols, Allen Ginsberg, Leonard Peltier, and Lynne Stewart.

Key Themes for the Study of Islam

Edited by Jamal J. Elias

Key Themes for the Study of Islam examines the central themes and concepts indispensable to an informed understanding of Islamic religion and society. From "Gender" and "History" to "Prayer" and "Prophecy," each authoritative chapter focuses on a single aspect of the religion and presents a critical discussion written by a world expert in that field. Exposing as false the idea that Islam and Muslims are incomprehensible to Western culture, this book will become the first choice for students and experts in religion from disparate fields, who wish to know how Islam relates to vital concepts in religion and society today.

Jamal J. Elias is Professor of Islamic Studies and Chair of the Department of Religious Studies, University of Pennsylvania. He has written and lectured widely on Sufi thought and history, Qur'anic studies, as well as on religion, art, and culture in the Islamic World. He lives in Philadelphia, PA.

Buddhist Ethics Essays in Honor of Damien Keown

Edited by John Powers and Charles S. Prebish

This book is a collection of thought-provoking writings on Buddhist ethics by some of the leading thinkers in the field. The reader is provided with engaging explorations of core issues of Buddhist ethics, how the principles of this ancient tradition are applied today by practitioners in both Asian and Western countries, and groundbreaking speculations on how Buddhist perspectives might inform debates on some of the core issues of the modern world, including consumerism, globalization, environmental problems, war, ethnic conflict and interreligious tensions.

A wonderful volume for those who are struggling with the practical issues of ethics that is also well-suited for university level courses on the topic.

John Powers has published twelve books, and is the Professor of Asian Studies at Australian National University. He lives in Australia. Charles S. Prebish, founding co-editor of the Journal of Buddhist Ethics, is the Director of Religious Studies at Utah State University and lives in Logan, Utah.

Margarita Nights

A Sherri Travis Mystery

Phyllis Smallman

The bar in Jacaranda, Florida may be upscale, but bartender Sherri Travis is from the side of town where luxury is an extra wide trailer. Sherri is separated from her husband Jimmy Travis, who comes from Jacaranda's social register, and there's only one thing Sherri and her mother-in-law agree on: she and Jimmy shouldn't be together.

Sherri wants Jimmy out of her life but he won't stay gone, so when Jimmy and his boat, the Suncoaster, explode in an orange ball of fire, the police come calling. There's a witness who puts Sherri on the Suncoaster hours before it went boom. Add a quarter million dollar insurance policy, and Sherri becomes the suspect du jour.

Sherri didn't do it, but as she digs through the debris of Jimmy's life, she discovers more than a few people who wanted Jimmy dead.

Phyllis Smallman's love of books led to various library jobs after which she became a production potter who dreamed of being a writer. Depending upon the time of year, she can be found in British Columbia or a beach in Southwest Florida.

Beside Still Waters

Barry Callaghan

This is a passionate love story, with its roots in Toronto and its resolution in the dark heart of contemporary Africa.

Adam Waters' search for the woman he loves, who has mysteriously disappeared from their hotel room, takes him from Toronto, to the casinos of Puerto Rico, to war-torn Gabon and a leper colony deep in the African bush.

Counterpointing Adam's quest are his memories from boyhood and of his father, wandering jazzman Sweet Web Waters; his experiences as a war correspondent; and the girl from his childhood who becomes his lover, Gabrielle O'Leary.

Callaghan confronts pure joy and evil in Beside Still Waters, combining the excitement of an adventure story with an exuberant love of language.

Barry Callaghan is a well-known novelist, poet and man of letters. His work is included in every major Canadian literary anthology and has been translated into seven languages. He was a war correspondent in the Middle East and Africa in the '70's and, for thirty five years, was a professor of contemporary literature. His work has won the Pushcart Prize, White and Lowell Thomas prizes in the U.S. He has been awarded honorary doctorates by the State University of New York and the University of Milan.

Sleep Tight

Help Your Child Attain a Good Night's Sleep in Three Days

Suzy Martyn

Sleepless nights...a thing of the past? Music to any new parents' ears! In Sleep Tight, infant sleep consultant, Suzy Martyn walks parents and grandparents step-by-step through the time-tested techniques that have been helping parents across the country.

Sleep solutions in just three days are the resulting benefit of the simple step-by-step instructions for new or experienced parents. A comprehensive and practical question & answer section meets parents where they are with their specific situation and experiences. An additional exclusive section on handling special sleep challenges demonstrates the unique niche that this handy guide offers new parents, and the OBGYN and pediatric nurses that offer early strategies. Helping babies attain a good night sleep in three days also delivers parents from the days or months of sleep deprivation and creates a much healthier and happier home.

Strong endorsements have been received from pediatricians, family physicians, OBGYN nurses, pediatric nurses and moms who have been thankful for sleep-filled nights!

As an author, speaker, and infant sleep consultant, Suzy Martyn demonstrates her passion and skills to bring better sleep to the parenting journey for baby and parents. She has 25 years experience caring for children through the classroom, home child care, parenting consultation services and as a mother of three. ## Enjoy the Ride

Tools, Tips, and Inspiration for the Most Common Parenting Challenges

Suzy Martyn

Parents everywhere are living flustered, busy lives with no time to themselves, much less time to stop, process, and plan the way they will parent. Enjoy the Ride quickly equips parents to handle more than 20 different challenging areas of parenting and be on their way to enjoying the journey the way it was intended to be.

With mom and kid-tested techniques that really work plus practical examples and stories to bring inspiration to the journey, first time parents, experienced parents, grandparents, and caregivers will gain tools to handle situations including: having peaceful, uninterrupted nights of sleep; creating life-long best friends in siblings; potty training with simplicity and low-stress; teaching children and parents to handle angry outbursts; motivating children to do chores with pride and skill; managing night terrors and nightmares.

This “quick start” manual that should have come with the baby delivers a unique combination of tools and inspiration to make parenting an easier ride. Its conversational style creates a desire to move forward chapter to chapter gleaning valuable tips to use right now... then to keep as a handy resource to re-read as challenges occur throughout the first ten years of parenting.

This valuable guide for parents is a fully updated and expanded version of the Mom’s Choice Award winning short run, 93-page first edition. It has received strong endorsements from pediatricians, family physicians, pre-school directors, and Mother’s of Preschooler Groups across the country. Suzy was highlighted by Family Fun Magazine as “Mom of the Month.”

Dogs in My Life

The New Orleans Photographs of John Tibule Mendes

Edited by Bill Lavender, with an Introduction by John Lawrence

Raised in New Orleans, John Tibule Mendes lived most of his life in a two-room house on Broad Street with his beloved mother and their dogs. Only after his death in 1965 was it discovered that this lonely and socially awkward man had spent most of his free time documenting beautiful and unusual scenes of early 20th century New Orleans. His glass-plate negatives, discovered after his death in the attic of his house and published here for the first time, captured subjects typically ignored by the photographers of the era: transvestites, demolition of historic buildings, working class children playing in their yards, the mean streets of New Orleans. His photographs are exceptional from both documentary and aesthetic perspectives, presenting what could accurately be classified as photographic folk art. The collection is complimented by excerpts from his self-published autobiography, Dogs in My Life, which add Mendes' sometimes tragic, sometimes hilarious, voice to the remarkable images.

Bill Lavender is a poet, author and editor of several books. He teaches writing at the University of New Orleans.

Two Souls: Four Lives

The Lives & Former Lives of Paramhansa Yogananda and His Disciple Swami Kriyananda

Catherine Van Houten

The Norman Conquest of England was one of the pivotal moments in world history, a series of events that affects us even today. Is it possible that two of the greatest men of those times—William the Conqueror and his son, Henry I of England—recently reincarnated as Paramhansa Yogananda (spiritual master and author of the classic Autobiography of a Yogi) and his close disciple, Swami Kriyananda, and if so, what are the subtle connections between the Norman Conquest and the current world picture? How will these important past lives influence our future?

Catherine Van Houten is a yogi, minister, and author. For the past ten years, she has conducted intensive and groundbreaking research into the past lives of Paramhansa Yogananda and Swami Kriyananda. She lives in Nevada City, CA.
