More About Me: Another Keepsake Journal

By Linda Kranz

True writers who were excited to fill up the pages in the first journal will want to continue writing and exploring topics like this one: Make a list of things you want to do when you get older. Keep adding to this list. Write down the cost of a first class stamp, a gallon of gas, a ticket to the movies, the price of a newspaper, the cost to rent your favorite video. Ask your parents to help you with other items your family buys. It will be interesting to see how prices have changed when you are older. Everyone has an imagination. What do you like to imagine?
